If, after interviewing you, we believe that you are a good candidate for working at Metro Dog, we will ask you to work a 6 - 8 hour shift paid at current minimum wage unless otherwise agreed. This 'trial shift ' is not an offer of employment. At any point during or after the 'trial shift' we can or you can withdraw from the interview process without consequence. If Metro Dog and the applicant both wish to continue, you will enter a probationary employment period of 30 -90 days to determine if you are a good fit at Metro Dog. At the end of your probationary period we will hold a review of your performance to determine the position you will be hired for and the starting rate of pay.

I certify that the information contained in this application, given during any interview or contained in an attached document is true, correct and complete. I understand that ,if hired, false statements may be considered sufficient cause for dismissal.
